From my childhood I'm having my mother's food... Im addicted on my mother's food... I don't know how could I explain...I knew people would like their mother's food especially when they far away from their family... but in my case I always been with my parents and eating my mother's food, sometimes I even felt boring but whatever... I can't consume hotel food or other people prepared food more than two times... only my mother food can complete my stomach...
